

Ms. Senior Homewood Pageant, 2010

Friday February ,12th 2010

*“Age Is Only A Number”
And there is No Limit*

The Ms. Senior Homewood Pageant is not a “Beauty pageant.” (All seniors are beautiful!) The pageant is a celebration of today’s senior woman. Contestants compete in evening wear, talent, interview, and philosophy of life.

It’s fun to compete. Join us and share with others your experiences, wisdom, and interests. Everyone has a talent-- it could be singing, reciting, sewing, quilting, knitting, painting, dancing, etc.

Prizes include gift certificates and gifts from local merchants. Ms. Senior Homewood goes on to compete in the Ms. Senior Alabama Pageant.

The Homewood Senior Center offers all contestants a workshop/rehearsal on Tuesday , Jan. 26th, from 10:00–12:00 a.m. The workshop covers all aspects of the pageant: poise, interview, modeling technique, etc., and it gives everyone a chance to practice on the HSC stage. Lunch Provided

“Pageant Day”

Contestants begin at 9:00 a.m. with private interviews. Public competition begins at 10:30. Lunch is provided at 12:00 and competition continues after lunch.

If you are interested in competing, please contact the Homewood Senior Center for an application: (205) 332-6500 Need more info: www.mssenioralabama.com
